SOUTH THREATENS STATE RIGHTS FIGHT

SLAYER OF LOVER GOES ON TRIAL

Mrs. Orthwein Claims Self-Defense in Shooting Zeigler

JEALOUSY, THE STATE SAYS
Chicago Smart Set's Midnight Follies Aired in Case

CHICAGO.—(By United Press.)—Midnight frolics of Chicago's smart set were aired in court today, as Mrs. Cora C. Orthwein went on trial for murder.

Mrs. Orthwein is charged with slaying Herbert P. Zeigler, Good-year Tire and Rubber Company executive, after a night of revelry. Jealousy because Zeigler danced with Mrs. Charlotte Lewinsky, the "kissing blonde" in the case, caused the shooting, according to the prosecution.

Assistant Prosecutor Heth said today that "Handsome Jack" Barry, alleged society gambler, would testify to this.

Mrs. Orthwein claims she shot the man with whom she had been living in self-defense—that he broke down the door of her apartment.

DIVORCE CASE
While the jury in Judge Francis Wilson's court was being chosen, the petition naming Zeigler as co-respondent in the divorce case between Barney Lewinsky and his wife, the "kissing blonde," was being heard.

Scandal growing out of the Orthwein case broke up the Lewinsky home.

It is expected two days will be consumed in picking a jury.

"Maybe I got a wrong start in life," Mrs. Orthwein said just before picking of the jury was started.

"Mother died when I was three, and father—he did his best to keep me good. We lived in Columbus, Ohio, then."

FIRST MARRIAGE
"Columbus was a great baseball town. It was there I met Jack O'Donnor. I was a pig-tailed girl of 15, then and ready to fall for any one who looked at me. Jack looked at me and we were married."

"I first started to despise when I traveled around with him. Finally, he grew abusive and I left him."

"It was in St. Louis that I met Ralph Orthwein, suave, gentle, heir to millions and owner of the St. Louis team."

"We were happy for several years, but then a woman broke up our home. After that, I dissipated more than ever."

"In Chicago, I met the debonair 'Herb' Zeigler, the good fellow of Chicago's night life. If we had met untouched by life's experience, it would have been love at first sight. As it was, our's was an illicit love. He had none of the pretty illusions that I had."

"Herb and I were so happy. He used to say to me:

"You're so feminine. You do those womanly things so well, just like my mother."

"Then he started to drink heavily. So did I. You know the result."

WOMAN ON TRIAL
Connecticut Wife Charged With Murder of Husband

BRIDGEPORT, Conn.—(By United Press.)—Court was forced to recess today because of the collapse of Mrs. George E. Nott, on trial for complicity in the murder of her husband.

Mrs. Nott fainted while Daniel O. Ferguson, a friend of her husband, was describing the condition of the latter's body as it lay in a morgue, after it was recovered from a swamp where it had been sunk in a trunk.

After she had been revived, Mrs. Nott was hysterical and the recess was ordered to permit her to recover.

Ferguson testified that Nott and Mrs. Nott quarreled frequently and that she had often acted as peace maker. Describing one incident which occurred a few weeks before the murder, Ferguson said:

"When I got there Nott was striking Mrs. Nott and she was kicking and biting him. I had to use force to separate them."

THREATENED RAILWAY STRIKE MAY BE AVERTED
YOUNGSTOWN.—A threatened strike at midnight tonight on all lines of the Pennsylvania and Ohio Electric Company, serving Niles, Warren, Girard and Youngstown, Ohio, and New Castle and Sharon, Pa., is likely to be averted by an agreement expected at conferences today, according to a statement by William Ferguson, vice-president and general manager of the company.

The company had asked acceptance of a wage reduction from 63 to 50 cents an hour. A meeting of mayors of the cities affected urged the company to submit a "more reasonable" offer.

Representatives of the company and the union went into conference this morning here, and sessions were expected to continue through the day.

U. S. REASSERTS DEMANDS FOR EQUAL RIGHTS

Answers Netherlands Claim as to Protest Against Dutch Oil Policy in Djambi Fields, Having Been Filed Too Late to Affect Operation

American Attitude Is Not Altered, Washington Says in New Note Sent to The Hague—Long History of Negotiations Summarized

WASHINGTON.—(By Associated Press.)—Exception to the assertions of the Netherlands government that the United States entered its protest against the Dutch oil policy in the Djambi oil fields too late to affect the operation of that policy, is taken by the American government in a new note which it was announced today had been dispatched to The Hague.

Official description of the communication was withheld, but it is understood it contains a general denial of assertions made in the Dutch reply of April 19, and that it makes clear to the Dutch foreign office that the United States has not altered its attitude with respect to discrimination against American oil interests.

The long history of the negotiations undertaken to obtain equal opportunity for American oil companies in the Dutch East Indies has been summarized in the new note, and it is said specific instances cited to show that the American government called to the attention of the Dutch government the acts indicating discrimination long before the bill closing the fields was introduced in the chamber of deputies.

It was explained that two months after representations had been made by the American minister, an application for concessions had been made by an American oil company and that it was not until a month afterwards that the bill was brought before the chamber. That bill, has been passed by the second chamber and is now under consideration by the first.

IRISH PLAN FOR FINISH FIGHT
De Valera Cables to Americans For Assistance

(BY LLOYD ALLEN)
LONDON.—(By United Press.)—With the British government supposed to be protesting informally against American aid to Sinn Feiners, "President" De Valera has cabled an appeal to his friends in the United States for further aid.

"Our enemies threaten increased frightfulness, hoping to crush us," said his cablegram to the Irish Recognition Association. "With your support we shall defeat them. Liberty shall not perish here."

BRITISH PREPARATIONS
The message was said to have been called out by British preparations for the use of still greater force in suppressing the Sinn Feiners. Altho the new measure will not be effective for more than a month, rumors of military plans are circulating freely and are causing excitement among extremists.

It was reported one of the measures will be shutting off of all military supplies from outsiders. It was said the British navy would be utilized in patrolling the Irish coast to prevent the smuggling of American arms to other vessels.

LARGER PATROLS
The British were also said to object to the sending of great funds for Irish relief. The reports here said that Sir Auckland Geddes, British ambassador at Washington, already had broached the subject in a series of informal conferences with government officials there. It was stated the United States had not decided yet whether it should interfere in Irish activities on that side of the Atlantic.

As for the increased military action in Ireland, the measures were said to lie largely in the discretion of the British commander-in-chief. It was accepted the plans will call for many additional troops to institute thoro patrols and heavy guard systems and that they will be stationed in large camps ready for instant action in almost any district.

AID NOT OFFERED MRS. STILLMAN

Former Artist Photographer Denies Rumored Assistance

CASE MAY BE POSTPONED
Divorce Hearings Scheduled to Reopen Tomorrow

NEW YORK.—(By United Press.)—Counsel in the Stillman divorce case were in conference today to determine the question of postponement of the hearings scheduled for tomorrow in Poughkeepsie. John E. Mack, guardian of little Guy, was reported to have asked for the postponement on the grounds that pressure of other affairs, would make it impossible for him to attend hearings this week.

It was denied by those closely associated with either the banker or his wife that the new contemplated postponement had anything to do with negotiations for a settlement out of court. For the present, hope of such a settlement had been given up, it was said.

Meanwhile Zeyada Benyusuf, a mysterious figure, whom rumor has constantly linked with the Stillman case, broke his persistent silence for the first time today to deny that she had recently offered her assistance to Mrs. James A. Stillman.

"In the first place," she declared, "I have been in New York all winter. And as to this gossip about my models—that is ridiculous. As if I would have paid any attention to the chatter of a lot of inconsequential persons who are of less value than the merest pawn in this scandal."

Miss Benyusuf was for many years an artist photographer.

"Agents representing Mrs. Stillman have called upon me frequently," Miss Benyusuf said. "But, I could not allow myself to be of any assistance to them. I have known Mr. Stillman for many years. I have no concern in his divorce case, however. I certainly haven't the slightest desire to be drawn into its unpleasant complications if I can possibly avoid it."

It is scarcely six weeks since I received from Mr. Stillman a few roses and a little note—a graceful act—expressing gratitude for my loyalty. But since then, I have been deeply hurt by a letter from his attorney, Mr. Sullivan, accusing me of 'talking.' I resent that—it is unjust."

500 PERILED BY FLOOD WATERS
Farmers Flee When Dike Breaks in Washington State

WOODLAND, Wash.—(By Associated Press.)—Between 400 and 500 persons, farmers and their families, were believed early today to have escaped to safety as the result of warning given last night when a dike near here protecting a reclaimed farm area of 12,000 acres broke under pressure of flood waters from the Columbia river. Damage to farm property was estimated by observers at $300,000.

The pump-out station at Birch Slough was swept away within 30 minutes after the dike broke. The area is approximately nine miles long and two to three miles wide. It is feared that most of the district has been inundated.

Preparations have been made for the accommodation here of the refugees. The pressure of the rising waters tore a hole 60 feet wide in the dike, which is 15 feet high, 70 feet wide at the base and 20 feet wide at the top.

For several days as a precautionary measure farmers have been sending their cattle out of the lowlands. The dike was completed this year at a cost of $200,000.

STRIKE NEARS END
Settlement of Seamen's Walkout Is Expected Today

WASHINGTON.—(By Associated Press.)—Secretary Davis planned to meet today with representatives of the Marine Engineers and Chairman Benson of the shipping board with the prospect that the agreement reached last week between the board and the men for settlement of their controversy involving the wage and working conditions, would be formally signed. According to unofficial information received at the department of labor, the local unions have ratified the proposed agreement by referendum.

The American Ship Owners' Association, it was indicated at the department, will probably ratify the agreement which is to be retroactive to May 1, and continue for one year. The terms include a 15 per cent wage reduction, elimination of overtime and of the ten day vacation proposed by the men. The matter of the reinstatement of men who went out on strike is to be settled "in fairness to all parties."

$50,000 RAISED FOR DEFENSE
Police Protect Witnesses As Outbreak Is Feared

DEDHAM, Mass.—(By United Press.)—A cordon of police guarded the Dedham district court when Nicola Sacco and Bartholomew Vanzetti were put on trial for their lives here today.

Judge Webster Thayer presided at the trial of the men who are charged with the murder of Frederick A. Parmenter, paymaster for the Slater and Morrill Shoe Company and Special Policeman Alexander Beradelli, at South Braintree, in April, 1920, when the latter were shot to death and a payroll of $18,000 stolen.

The defendants were under heavy guard while attorneys, witnesses and court attendants were protected by a detail of police. All persons entering the court room were scrutinized and questioned.

Both accused men are Italian citizens and a fund of $50,000 raised by Italian societies and labor organizations will be used in their defense. Five hundred prospective jurors were summoned.

Frederick G. Katzmann, district attorney, Norfolk, and Assistant District Attorney Harold B. Williams, were in charge of the prosecution.

Jeremiah J. McArney, noted criminal lawyer, was senior counsel for the defense. He will be assisted by Frederick H. Moore, Los Angeles, who came here especially for the trial. William J. Callahan, Brockton, Mass., is also one of counsel for the defense.

ALLIES DIVIDED ON LEAGUE SEAT
Headquarters Question Comes Up At June Meeting

GENEVA.—(By Associated Press.)—Views are being exchanged between the allied nations relative to the advisability of reopening the question of choosing a city as the permanent seat of the league of nations. This matter may prove to be one of the most interesting to be considered at the June meeting of the council of the league.

At least ten days will be required for the council to complete the work before it, but this period may be extended as it is believed probable that new questions will arise during the session.

No secret is made by league officials of the dissatisfaction felt over what has been done to take care of the league's requirements here. Much of the discontentment is due to the difficulty in securing accommodations for the delegations to the fall meeting of the assembly.

The desire of France still is to have the headquarters of the league at Versailles, but the claim of Brussels, which continue to be pressed, are finding more favor.

The council, it is held, has under the covenant full authority to change the headquarters at any time. Altho the assembly voted, in principle, that the annual meetings should be held at Geneva.

Dr. Gastao Da Cunha, Brazilian ambassador to France, president of the council, will preside over the June meeting of the council, but another president will be chosen for the subsequent sessions. According to the system of rotation thus far followed the new president will be Viscount Ishii unless the Japanese member prefers to await another occasion.

Aside from these matters the most important work on the program will be consideration of the report of the committee on amendments to the covenant and the drawing up of a report by the council of 48 members to the league on this report.

23 LOST AT SEA
Entire Crew Believed Drowned When Schooner Sinks

HALIFAX, N. S.—(By Associated Press.)—The fate of the captain and crew of the Gloucester schooner Esperanto, winner of the "international fishermen's race" last fall, which foundered yesterday off Sable Island, was left still more in doubt today after receipt here of a message from the Sable Island station of the marine and fisheries department.

An inquiry as to whether Captain Alcen Geel of Elsie II, who had found Esperanto sunk to her cross trees, had rescued Captain Thomas Benham and his crew of 22, brought this reply from Acting Superintendent Naugle:

"Captain Geel was gone when lifeboat arrived. No sign of life."

NEW BALKAN WAR THREATENS

All Europe May Become Involved in Conflict

IRREGULARS START FIGHT
Several States Invaded by Bands From Macedonia

(BY HENRY WOOD)
ROME.—(By United Press.)—Sweeping down from highlands of Macedonia and Albania, great bands of irregular soldiers today are threatening to start another Balkan war, which may involve all of Europe.

The fighters—almost bandits in their mode of warfare, but driven by strong nationalist feeling, entered foreign countries.

Pillage and arson, marked their trail. The governments thus taunted, immediately planned to raise forces to combat them. The old Balkan troubles were involved in the fighting. Greece wants more land to the north; Bulgaria wants to reclaim some of the territory lost in the war and Serbia wants to retain her newly won lands.

Latest advices here show the situation especially critical in Macedonia and Albania, whose problems were not solved by the treaties of St. Germain and Sevres.

SPREAD IS FEARED
Reports showed that large bands of comitajis (irregulars) have been recruited throughout the Balkans, almost every portion of the war-torn region having contributed its share of fighting men. The governments back of them are either arming to protect their legitimate interests, or are preparing to back the comitajis from their own country in an effort to extend their boundaries.

Officials here feared that before the allied supreme council or the league of nations can intervene, the comitajis will clash with regular military forces and start the conflict which may embroil not only the Balkans, but spread thru Europe.

GREEK INITIATIVE
The Albanians and Greeks have occupied strategic points commanding the two most important Albanian cities. Koritsa and Argireastro while the Serbians are holding the river Drin in northeastern Albania.

The Albanians, altho intending no offensive themselves, are mobilizing to prevent further occupation.

The most serious phase of the situation is believed that resulting from the Greeks' initiative. Because of the reverses they have suffered in their offensive against the Turks in Asia-Minor, the Greeks are extremely anxious to annex the two cities and thus reestablish King Constantine's prestige. The Albanians are determined to resist this effort.

In northeastern Albania, the Serbian comitajis continue to raid long-coveted Scutari.

There is a similarly critical situation in Serbian Macedonia where Bulgarian comitajis have encroached on both Serbian and Greek territory. They are likely to clash at any time with the regular frontier guards, provoking an open war.

Athens and Belgrade are protesting violently to Sofia. Premier Stambolski, is denying responsibility, asserting that the other two countries are to blame because they acquired territory under treaties which is populated chiefly by Bulgarians.

The Serbians are recruiting a force of 2,000 gendarmes from the army to reinforce the frontier points and offering them special rewards for defeating the raiders. The Serbian press asserts that Sofia, despite claims of lack of responsibility, is sending money and munitions to the comitajis.

No intervention is desired by Serbia, which feels capable of handling her traditional enemy.

The Albanians have appealed to the league of nations, which will take the matter up June 17. Stambolski has asked the allies to investigate. But observers fear a major outbreak before these investigations can be made.

CONVICT CAPTURED.
COLUMBUS.—Jay King, who escaped from the Ohio penitentiary December 8, 1920, while serving an indeterminate sentence from Toledo for abandoning his two motherless children, will be returned to the institution today from Chicago, where he was captured, according to advices received here. COLUMBUS.—Application of the Warren and Niles Telephone Company for an increase in rates, was filed with the state public utilities commission today. No specific increase was asked in the application. The commission ordered a hearing for June 30.

CLASH ON ROADS FACES CONGRESS

Southerners Object to Proposed Interstate Highway Plan

OPPOSE THE TOWNSEND BILL
Claim Government Would be in Absolute Control

WASHINGTON.—(By Associated Press.)—The issue of the rights of the states as opposed to those of the federal government is threatening to become the subject of debate in congress on the subject of highways.

The issue thus far has reached the stage of discussion only in the senate postoffice and postroads committee, at hearings soon to be completed on the Townsend bill to establish an interstate highway system and to create a federal highway commission. Members of the committee from the southern states have indicated, however, that the question of authority as between the states and the federal government will be raised when the Townsend bill reaches the senate.

POSITION FROM SOUTH
Provisions of the Townsend bill giving the proposed highway commission of five members authority to pass finally on the roads to be constructed with the $100,000,000 federal aid appropriation, have raised the states' rights questions at committee hearings. Questions put to witnesses by Senator Heflin, of Alabama, and other senators from the south on the committee, have indicated an intention to attack the bill on the ground that it would provide a federal agency with a veto power over highway routes to be selected by the highway commissions of the several states.

Witness after witness appearing before the committee has been questioned on this point by Senator Heflin and those supporting his contention, which the Alabama senator, usually at the close of the interrogation, states as follows:

CONTENTION DISPUTED
"My contention is that the states are required at the outset to put up half of this fund to build the post-roads of the government; they are required to put up all the funds for the upkeep of the road for all time to come and they are going to have no power or voice—practically none—in making where these roads shall be constructed."

Republican members of the committee and some of the witnesses have disputed this contention, asserting that the federal commission naturally would rely upon the advice of the state commissions as to road routes. Creation of a federal commission also has been defended, proponents of the plan asserting that direction by federal authority of interstate road construction is necessary.

WRECK IS PROBED
Cause of Air Crash, Killing Seven, Investigated

WASHINGTON.—(By Associated Press.)—Report of the army board of inquiry appointed to investigate the crash of the Curtiss Eagle ambulance airplane near Morgantown, Maryland, late Saturday, in which seven men were killed, was expected to be made today to Major M. T. Scanlon, commandant at Bolling field. Members of the board appointed yesterday by Major Scanlon are Captain W. C. Ocker, Lieutenant P. C. Wilkins and Lieutenant Leroy Wolfe.

The board yesterday visited the scene, examined the wreckage and heard stories of eye witnesses to the disaster. They also made special effort to learn whether the crash was due to any defect in the design or equipment of the machine. The machine itself was so completely wrecked, however, that it was believed to have yielded no clue as to the cause of the disaster. The mass of torn and splintered material was ordered burned, being considered unsanitary.

The plane crashed during a severe electrical storm late Saturday while returning to Washington from Langley field, Virginia.

BOY DECAPITATED
Lad, 14, is Run Down by Train Near Toledo

TOLEDO.—(By Associated Press.)—John Haack, 14, was decapitated by a Wheeling and Lake Erie freight train while walking on a railroad trestle near Walbridge Park, last night. The head and right shoulder were severed from the body.

The boy left home early in the morning for a fishing trip on the Maumee river and in returning home took a short cut by crossing the river on the railroad trestle. He had nearly reached safety when struck by the engine.

POLICE OFFICERS RESIGN TUESDAY

Eberle and Goebel Retire After Saturday Night Affair

ARE ACCUSED OF DRINKING

Drop Out of Department Rather Than Face a Hearing

Resignations of Police Sergeants John Eberle and Frank Goebel, alleged to have been guilty of conduct unbecoming an officer, Saturday night in Earl Smith's cigar store on E. Market-st., were received by Safety Director Fisher, early Tuesday morning and immediately accepted. The resignations became effective at once. Both former officers were at police headquarters Tuesday morning. They wore civilian clothes.

The resignations of both Goebel and Eberle were exceedingly succinct, each simply setting forth that they resigned and requesting that the resignation be accepted at once. No reason for the resignation was specified by either man in the document forwarded to Fisher.

Upon receipt of the resignations, the safety director said:

"There is nothing else for me to do but to accept the resignations. I realize that in the resignations of Goebel and Eberle, the department is losing two of the best men on its roster. I hate the whole affair, and I know Chief Roush does."

GUN FIGHT REACTION

"When the entire thing is sifted down to facts, I believe, it will be discovered that Saturday's affair in the cigar store is a direct result of the recent gun fight with the bandit gang here, in which both officers participated. It was simply a reaction of the fight. Both men have been unstrung for the past week. They probably took several drinks Saturday night without realizing that they were getting too much. The matter, so far as the safety department is concerned, is closed."

The resignations of both men have been received and accepted. There is nothing more to do."

Despite all rumors to the contrary, Sergeant Goebel Monday morning declared that he will not talk concerning any other members of the department and that he never had intended doing so.

"I have no statement to make," Goebel declared. "The thing I am going to do is to vindicate myself in the eyes of the public."

Sergeant Eberle when questioned concerning the affair and his future plans, said: "I am not censuring any member of the department, neither my superior officers nor those who were outranked by me. I have no alibi to offer. Neither have I an excuse. If I am guilty of the things they say, then I do not deserve anything better. If I am not guilty, then truth will out. As to my making a statement concerning the affair, I'd rather not."

"I have gone thru my police career with a clean slate, of course, excepting Saturday night. Some day I hope to regain my standing in the department and demonstrate to the public that one offense does not make a convict. I feel that I will at some future date obtain a place on the department again, and when I do I shall profit by this last experience."

ROUSH DEPLORES AFFAIR

That the entire affair is deplored by Chief Roush was made apparent when he said:

"With the exception of Saturday night's affair, I will say that both men have been model officers. They are two of the best in the department. Eberle and Goebel are good men. Goebel as round sergeant gave me two men, whose places will be hard to fill. Both men showed their calibre during the recent fight with Yeggs and at all times both men have proved their worth to the department. I should like to have had the matter settled in a different way, but this was the only method."

Public sentiment as gathered about the streets, appears to favor the two men. In the majority of instances the public appears to believe that a reduction in ranks and a 30 day suspension would have sufficed as punishment.

The resignations of Eberle and Goebel are the result of an altercation which is alleged to have taken place in the Earl Smith cigar store early Sunday morning. The officers, according to Smith, entered his place and demanded that he allow them to search his upstairs. He declares they were in an intoxicated condition. When he refused, he says, they became boisterous and a fight is said to have ensued.

ACCUSED OF DRINKING

Smith, according to police, accuses Eberle and Goebel of hitting several occupants of the place on the head. Both officers declare they did not, to their knowledge. Captain Dawson, learning of the trouble, went to Smith's establishment and ordered the two officers to headquarters. There, it is alleged, the two men maintained they were right in demanding permission to search the second floor of the cigar store for liquor.

Captain Dawson went to Chief Roush's home and placed the matter before him. Monday, Safety Director Fisher investigated the affair and informed the men that they could have a hearing Wednesday night if they desired.

Rather than all the matter, it is believed, the former officials decided to hand in their resignations.

For the present, Planschietesman, Joe Reed, will continue to fill the vacancy until an appointment is made. Chief Roush said Tuesday. The post of round sergeant will remain vacant for the time being, the chief said, as he has no one just now that he can put in the place of the chief who will watch over it himself, he said.

MERCHANT DINNER TO HAVE GOOD SPEAKERS

Members of the Lima Merchants' association will hold their monthly dinner at the Lima Club, Tuesday, June 7. J. L. Rose, chairman of the entertainment committee, working on the program, announces that he is going to put some head-liners as speakers.

Interviews-- Ideas and Fancies

JAMES I. HEFFNER, City Clerk

"Decoration Day was observed in a very beautiful and impressive way. All the agencies in the city combined to make it a success. The school children were especially interested in the exercises and showed their patriotic training. This part of the program was the feature, as it always is and the children did their work very well. Another feature that deserves commendation was the music. Members of the local musical organization donated their services in order that the day might be fittingly celebrated. A committee certainly thanks them and all others who aided in any way to make the day a success."

LOUIS H. CUNNINGHAM: "We are looking forward to a very enjoyable trip when we motor west. This is not the first time I have taken this trip and I know what we will be up against. We anticipate no trouble however. Our route will be different from the one we followed last time. On the way out we will go the southern way and come back by the northern route. While in the west we will take in the National Elks' convention, although the trip is not being taken with that primarily in view. We look for good roads and good travelling conditions."

REV. SAMUEL HEUCKER, 116 S. Jamison-ave: "A resolution was introduced before the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church by W. J. Bryan and accepted by them which expresses my sentiments on the disarmament question. This resolution calls for a conference between the leading nations to make plans for a concurrent reduction of armaments. It will be necessary to disarm slowly and all the nations at the same rate. No one nation will be weakened and left open to attacks from any other. A naval holiday will be all right if the leading nations all agree to it."

NICK MERHAB, Columbus Grove: "It sure feels great to be signed up by a big league team and be given a chance to show what one can do. Of course the Detroit team realizes that I need seasoning; that is why they have ordered me to report to the Henrietta Oklahoma team. If I make good there they tell me that they will recall me before the end of the year and let me try my hand at real work. I'm going to do my best to make good."

TILE DITCH SOURCE OF WATER LOSS FROM NEW CITY RESERVOIR

For some time past a crystal spring has bubbled up from the ground near Lost Creek reservoir, the water trickling away to waste.

Monday the source of the spring was discovered when workmen repairing the reservoir for the U. S. Guaranteed & Fidelity company, discovered that in digging the lake a line of drain tile had been left.

Water seeping into the tile was carried outside of the reservoir and burst up from the ground.

The tile was torn out of the bank and the hole blocked.

Service Director Elmer McClain estimates that several hundred thousands gallons have been lost thru the tile. It was to discover possible leakage that the reservoir was recently filled to capacity.

POLICE LAXITY IS MAYOR'S CHARGE

Holds Liquor Laws Are Not Properly Enforced

TO START INVESTIGATION

Eberle and Goebel to be Asked to Explain Action

That there is too much sentiment against a vigorous enforcement of liquor laws among members of the police department and that this feeling is detrimental to the force, was the opinion voiced by Mayor F. A. Burkhardt Tuesday in commenting on the resignation of Police Sergeants John B. Goebel and Frank Eberle.

Resignation of the two officers will not end the matter the mayor declared. Conduct of other officers is to be investigated, he says. Instructions were issued to Safety Director Fred Fisher at noon Tuesday to have the two ex-officers brought in.

"They will have to explain their conduct," said the mayor, "just as would ordinary citizens."

ASK GOEBEL TO TALK

If Goebel has anything to say, he will be given an opportunity to talk, as he has threatened to do. There is to be no whitewashing the matter, so far as he is concerned, the mayor said.

"There is no doubt," stated the mayor, "that when it comes to suppressing crime, the department acts with dispatch. Complaints have been coming to my attention, however, that when it comes to the suppression of liquor sales, there is a tendency to be lax."

According to the chief executive, complaints made by citizens and police officers have been present in drinking places when intoxicated have been sold. They made no effort to stop sales, the mayor stated. Up to date, it was stated, complaints have not been specific and there has not been sufficient evidence to act.

COMPLAINTS RECEIVED

The mayor also said that complaints had been made to him that men on the force were addicted to use of intoxicants.

VALUE OF FRIENDSHIP IS THEME OF SPEAKER; BALL CLUB OPTIMISTIC

Declaring that friendship is the thing to be most highly valued today, the Rev. D. N. Kelley, pastor of Grace M. E. church, delivered an interesting address before the members of the Kiwanis club at their luncheon Tuesday. He was speaking on "The Value of Friendship."

If enthusiasm could be taken as an indication, the Kiwanians will swamp the roaring Lions in their ball game Tuesday afternoon. The team is on its toes. Les Parrott, captain, declared, and Jimmie Jolley, manager, vowed the boys would wipe out the stain of the defeat administered by Doc Hay's monarchs of the forest.

Splendid music was furnished by Jim Grubb, who sang a number of solos, accompanied by his wife at the piano, and "Chic" Foltz' orchestra.

ALLEGED DELPROS FORGER BOUND OVER TO COURT BY MAYOR

Charged with forgery, N. B. Hughes, 49, Delphos, was brought to this city and lodged in county jail to await action of the grand jury which reconvened Tuesday morning.

Hughes, who is said to have more than a half dozen aliases, was brought here by Mayor Ben Jauman, of Delphos.

According to Jauman, Hughes forged a check in Delphos some time ago for $72. He used the alias Craig on the paper. Hughes was arrested in Detroit last week and authorities of Delphos went to that city after him. He was lodged in city prison here Sunday night, between trains.

GRAND JURY GOES INTO ACTION

Probers Take Up Cases of Alleged Bandits and Others

Fatal ending of a joy-ride which began after midnight of May 1, resulting in death of a colored youth, may find its solution should an indictment be returned by the grand jury against Garry Merrill, 833 E. North-st., driver of the ill-fated car.

Merrill's case was investigated Tuesday by the body, which opened its deliberations with the convening of court. Every man who served on the grand jury in April was present to resume his labors Tuesday.

Allen Ford, negro, 1033 W. Spring-st., was killed as a result of the joy-ride. The automobile, a newly-purchased Cadillac, was taken from the auto laundry in the rear of the court house, for the trip. The accident occurred when the car struck a telephone pole at North-st. and Jamison-ave.

The car was demolished. Other negroes injured were Lyle Moxley and Grafton Taylor, both of 415 N. Franklin-st., and J. T. Rolason, 1033 W. Spring-st.

Ora Green was among the witnesses who testified before the grand jury Tuesday.

The grand jury also took up investigation of the robbery of Samuel and Jacob Fett, bachelor brothers, Bluffton. Their home was robbed on more than $2,000 on May 14.

Both the Fett brothers had previously identified George Donovan and Joe Willis as the men who staged the robbery. They were undecided as to whether John Mason, one of the bandit trio held, was in the party which entered their home.

Fifteen witnesses were called for Tuesday, a number of whom are patrolmen. Deputy Sheriff Clarence Fraunfeiter is also among those summoned.

Fifteen more witnesses have been called for Wednesday. It is probable the grand jury session will consume several days.

Members of the grand jury now engaged in making the investigation include William Hefner, Lima; J. A. Nuss, West Carver, Charles Moeller, Monroe-top; Milton E. McPherson, H. C. Kundert, Ralph Benroth, all of Lima; Casper Laue, Delphos; Lee Nunn, Elida; W. A. Carroll, Lima; William Rhodes, Jackson-top; Paul W. Mumaugh, Lima; Adam Hira, Spencerville; H. L. Hunter, Minor Crossley and W. J. Judkins, all of Lima.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

Daniel Joseph McCarthy, 25, steel inspector, Pittsburgh, and Sarah Catherine Barr, 23, social worker, 316 S. Baxter-st., both of Lima, were married by Rev. J. A. Nuss, pastor of St. Rita's church, 1914-1920 and C. E. Bender who is now in office.

No superintendent of this school has ever been discharged and with the exception of C. C. Nardin, who is now superintendent at Wapakoneta, all now reside within the limits of Allen-co.

All the former superintendents of the High School were present with the exception of S. C. Patterson, who died some years ago. Those present, together with the dates of their tenure of office, were U. M. Shappell, 1887-1894; B. F. Biery, 1894-1900; E. C. Akerman, 1900-1906; C. A. Arganbright, 1906-1914; C. C. Nardin, 1914-1920 and C. E. Bender who is now in office.

Columbus Man Eulogizes Heroes of War in Address Here

Flowers and flags decorated the last resting places of departed heroes of three wars, in Allen-co Monday. Services for the dead were conducted under supervision of the American Legion, Grand Army of the Republic and Spanish American War Veterans, who paid their deceased comrades tribute.

Both civilians and soldiers participated in the parade held during the morning. Colonel John Harley, assisted by E. J. Jackson and James Heffner, directed the parade.

Services were conducted during the morning, at each of the two cemeteries for the soldiers and sailors. Services at Woodlawn were conducted by the Rev. J. Allen Canby and by the Rev. Father G. Behr at Gethsemane. Ritualistic services for the unknown dead were held by the W. R. C. and Daughters of Veterans at the monument in Woodlawn cemetery.

A Memorial day program was held in Memorial Hall during the afternoon. The address was delivered by J. B. Crabbe, Columbus, who paid a masterly tribute to the departed heroes of three wars. The speaker's eloquence was touched with a thread of pathos throughout. Somewhere in France, a tiny flag and wreath of poppies mark the last resting place of his young brother.

Old and young veterans alike pronounced Crabbe's address the best of its sort heard in Lima for years.

With full military honors, the body of Ryan Hira, who died in France, was consigned to its final resting place at Woodlawn. Burial was conducted by the American Legion.

A firing squad gave the last tribute due a soldier, and then taps was sounded. Hira was the son of M. R. Hira, 1234 Atlantic-ave.

Fair but warm weather prevailed and made it ideal for the events of the day.

BIG MARKETING CONCERN FORMED

Plans for Farmers Finance Corporation Completed.

HAS $100,000,000 CAPITAL

Elimination of Speculation in Grain One of Aims.

(BY HAROLD D. JACOBS)

NEW YORK — The greatest agricultural marketing organization in the world was launched here today when plans were completed for the Farmers Finance Corporation.

The corporation, which was formed for the purpose of handling the country's grain crop on a co-operative basis, will have a capitalization of $100,000,000 and a potential power of at least $1,000,000,000.

Incorporation papers will be filed in Wilmington, Del., this week.

According to officials, the corporation will begin to function immediately and may be able to handle a portion of this year's crops.

OBJECTS OF CORPORATION

The principal objects of the corporation are described as follows:

Elimination of speculation in grain.

Stabilization of grain prices with equal benefit to farmers and consumers.

Increased acreage with consequent greater production.

Abolition of unnecessary costs by direct shipments and elimination of middlemen's profits.

If this experiment is successful, it was stated, farmers' organizations throughout the country will apply the same principle to other agricultural products.

The United States Grain Growers, Inc., of which the Farmers Finance Corporation is a subsidiary, will form another subsidiary to handle grain exports.

OTHER CORPORATIONS

Committees similar to the one which has just completed organization of the finance corporation, are now at work on corporations to handle live stock, fruit, milk and dairy products, tobacco, poultry, garden truck and cannery products.

The Farmers' Finance Corporation will at once lease or build elevators in Chicago, Minneapolis, Omaha, Kansas City, Cleveland, New York, and Spokane, or Seattle, and later in Galveston and Fort Worth.

The officers of the United States Grain Growers' Inc., are: President, C. H. Gustafson, of Lincoln, Neb.; Vice-President, J. M. Anderson, of St. Paul, Minn.; First Vice-President, George C. Jewett, of Spokane, Wash.; Second Vice-President, C. H. Hyde, of Alva, Okla.; Third Vice-President, William C. Eckhardt, of Dekalb, Ill.; Treasurer, and Frank M. Myers, of Fort Dodge, Ia.; Secretary, Clifford Thorne of Chicago is general counsel and Bernard M. Baruch of New York, is financial adviser.

Gustafson explained that the finance corporation will have 1,000,000 shares of non-voting stock with a par value of $100 which will be sold only to grain growers. The voting stock consists of but 21 shares of dividend paying stock, held by the United States Grain Growers, Inc., and will be voted by the latter's directors. By this system, the officials believe they will be able to insure permanent control of the finance corporation by bona fide farmers.

Additional funds will be raised as needed thru the sale of bonds to the public with the enormous quantities of grain and the paid-in capital as security. Thru this means the officials are confident they will have a potential financial power of $1,000,000,000.

Gustafson said that thru the finance corporation, grain could be marketed in three days by the individual sales system, whereby farmers sell direct to the elevators; by the consignment system, whereby they sell to the millers thru the organization and by the pooling system, whereby farmers in a community, county or state pool their grain and sell it over a period of months, taking an equal profit on each bushel they have provided at the expiration of that period.

"At present, 70 to 75 percent of the farmers' grain is marketed, resulting in a glutting of the market with a consequent loss to them and no benefit to the consumer."

HE SEEMED LIKE A DIFFERENT MAN

Akron Citizen Expects To Always Give Taniae The Highest Praise For Restoring His Health.

"Taniae has helped me so much that I've told all my friends about it, and I expect to always give it the highest praise," said B. F. Faust, 194 Park Ave., Akron.

"My stomach got out of order three years ago, and I commenced bloating so bad after meals it almost cut off my breath. I had severe pains thru my chest when it seemed that I could hardly stand it, and nights I often had smothering spells when it seemed that my time had surely come. I often had to get out of bed and sit up the rest of the night in order to get my breath. I was hardly able to drag around, and always felt drowsy and tired."

"But after taking three bottles of Taniae I was entirely relieved of all that stomach trouble, and was eating again and everything I wanted without a bit of pain or discomfort. I actually seemed like a different man. I sleep the whole night thru, and never have a weak spell. I am only too glad to say a good word for Taniae."—Adv.

Piles

Can't Be Cured from the Outside. External treatments seldom cure Piles. Nor do surgical operations. The cause is inside—bad circulation. The blood is stagnant, the veins flabby.

The bowel walls are weak, the parts almost dead.

To quickly and safely rid yourself of piles you must free the circulation—send a fresh current thru the stagnant pools. Internal treatment is the one safe method. Ointments and cutting won't do it.

J. S. Leonhardt, M. D., a specialist, set at work some years ago to find a real internal remedy for piles. He succeeded. He named his prescription HEM-ROID, and tried it in 1000 cases before he was satisfied. Now HEM-ROID is sold by druggists everywhere under guarantee. It is a harmless tablet, easy to take, and can always be found at Thompson's 3 Drug Stores and druggists everywhere, who will gladly refund the purchase price to any dissatisfied customer.—Adv.

FORTUNE MADE ON WIFE'S DOWRY

Remarkable Story of Hungarian's Financiering Told

CLEARRS 4,000,000 CROWNS

After Working Scheme Sends Mate Back to Father

BUDAPEST — (By Associated Press) — A remarkable story of how a young Hungarian made a profit of 4,000,000 crowns by speculating with his wife's dowry and then sending her and her dowry back to her father, has just come to light here.

Four months ago Joseph Klein, a young merchant of Budapest of small means, married a Transylvanian girl and received with her a dowry of 2,000,000 Rumanian lei (worth at present exchange rates about one and one-fourth cents per lei).

The bridegroom quickly changed his wife's dowry into Hungarian currency and received in exchange 14,000,000 crowns, the crown then being quoted seven to the lei.

After the honeymoon the young husband found that his good opinion of both the Rumanian currency and of his wife had declined, and that the crown was now only five to the lei.

Mr. Klein thereupon bought back his wife's dowry for 16,000,000 crowns and sent her and her dowry back to her father. By that transaction Klein made a clear profit of 4,000,000 crowns and is now said to be on the lookout for another wife.

This is an example of how the marriage market here has been affected by the fluctuation of exchange values. When the Hungarian crown sank very low, the value of Transylvanian, South Hungarian and Slovak girls, backed by good Rumanian lei, Jugoslav dinars and Czechoslovak skelars, rose considerably in the eyes of the Hungarian youths and at least as many matches were made on the exchange as in heaven.

Slowly, with the improvement of the Hungarian money, the demand for girls from the lost provinces abated and Magyar girls are again very firm in the market. Former marriages with foreign currency girls are now being cancelled for the sake of Hungarian women.

Mrs. Rachael Stemen, 67, widow of William Stemen, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. W. Foust, ten miles west of Lima, Monday, May 29, of heart trouble. She was a life-long resident of Allen-co, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ethan John.

Her husband died 29 years ago. Surviving, besides Mrs. Foust, are three sons, two brothers and a sister. Sons are Wesley Stemen and Earl J. Stemen, both of Ft. Wayne, and Dillon Stemen, Buffalo.

Reduce Those Dangerous Swollen Veins

Physicians are prescribing and hospitals are using a new and harmless, yet very powerful remedy that not only causes enlarged or varicose veins and bunched to become normal but also reduces swollen, enlarged glands and wens.

Ask any first class druggist for an original two-ounce bottle of Moore's Emerald Oil (full strength) and refuse to accept anything in its place. It is such a highly concentrated preparation that two ounces lasts a long time and furthermore it is a wonderful discovery does not produce the results anticipated, you can have the price refunded.

It is not wise for anyone to allow swollen veins to keep on enlarging. Often they burst and cause weeks of pain, suffering and loss of employment. Start the Emerald Oil treatment as directions advise and improvement will begin at once. Generous sample on receipt of 15 cents, silver or stamps. International Laboratories, Rochester, N. Y. Your druggist or a Hunter's Drug Store, Thompson's Drug Store, Interurban Drug Store, Public Drug Store can supply you—Adv.

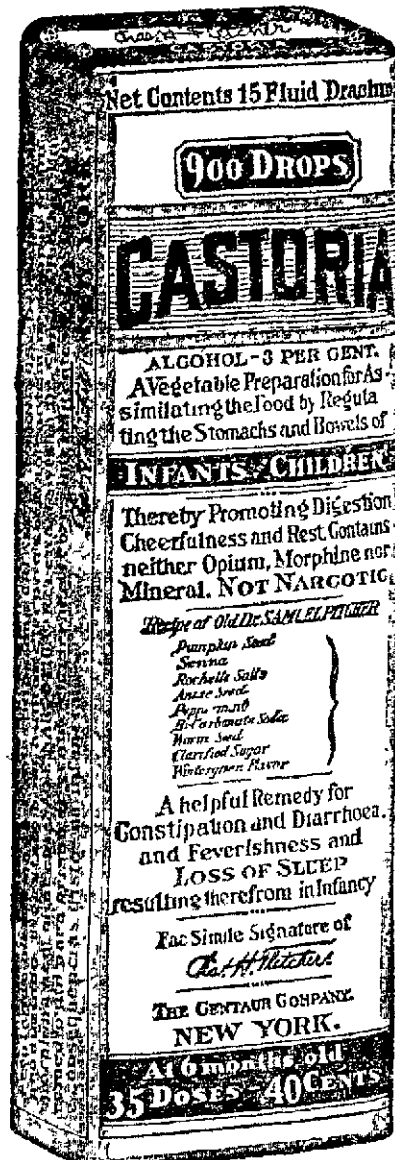

Are You Human?

A little baby. A little child. Don't they appeal to you? Doesn't your heart yearn to pick them up, to cuddle them close to you, to shield them from all harm? sure it does else you're not human. Being human you love them. Their very helplessness makes you reach out in all your strength to aid them. In health there's no flower so beautiful. In illness there's no sight so black.

Save them then. Use every precaution. Take no chance.

When sickness comes, as sickness will, remember it's just a baby, just a child and if the Physician isn't at hand don't try some remedy that you may have around the house for your own use.

Fletcher's Castoria was made especially for babies' ills and you can use it with perfect safety as any doctor will tell you. Keep it in the house.

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

Do the People Know?

Do you know why you are asked to call for Fletcher's Castoria when you want a child's remedy? why you must insist on Fletcher's? For years we have been explaining how the popularity of Fletcher's Castoria has brought out innumerable imitations, substitutes and counterfeits.

To protect the babies: to shield the homes and in defense of generations to come we appeal to the better judgment of parents to insist on having Fletcher's Castoria when in need of a child's medicine. And remember above all things that a child's medicine is made for children—a medicine prepared for grown-ups is not interchangeable. A baby's food for a baby. And a baby's medicine is just as essential for the baby.

The Castoria Recipe (it's on every wrapper) has been prepared by the same hands in the same manner for so many years that the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and perfection in the product are synonymous.

Theatre Prices to Be Lowered

Motion Picture Industry to Participate in Readjustment Policy of the Country. The Sigma Theater Among the First to Lower Admission Prices

The motion picture producers of the country, the third largest industry of the world, in touch with the industrial conditions, are making an advance movement in the readjustment policy now prevalent throughout the breadth of the land, by starting not only a retrenchment policy but a general reduction in film rentals to the exhibitors, which after much controversy the Sigma theater management have succeeded in securing a reduction in the rental prices for the picture used by the Sigma.

In keeping with the Sigma policy to offer only the best at the lowest possible prices, and desiring to share the readjustment policy now sweeping the United States, the Sigma theater management takes pleasure in making an announcement which will be welcomed by the theater-going public. They will pass the reduction along to the public, allowing them to share the benefits accrued by reducing the admission prices for the Sigma theater for the summer.

REDUCED PRICES OF ADMISSION SUMMER PRICES
Matinee prices Children 10 cents, Sigma pays the war tax. Adults, 20 cents, the Sigma pays the war tax except Sunday and holidays.
Night prices. 10 cents, adults 20 cents. The Sigma pays the war tax.

One of the most modern ventilating plants has been installed in the theater at the expense of $11,000, combined with a cooling system whereby ice cooled air passes through the floors of the theater to be inducted thru mushroom ventilators in the floor at the feet of the patrons, making the entire auditorium, making the theater some 20 degrees cooler than the street. The opera chairs are among the most modern and comfortable to be found in any theater, where one can find rest and comfort.

Every care and precaution has been taken to insure the safety of the many exits provided being ample to empty the theater of a crowded house in something like three minutes. The music provided for your entertainment is far superior to that in most cities the size of Lima. A magnificent pipe organ, all performances, and the famous Sigma orchestra to be heard in the evenings and Sunday afternoon.

The coming picture attractions at the Sigma is an assurance that under the new price schedule the same high standard of picture features will be presented, in fact the Sigma will be offering you the big ones regularly. Feeling that the thousands of regular patrons know that the Sigma theater never disappoints and offering a list of some of the big coming features, among them being "Thomas H. Ince's great masterpiece, 'Mother O' Mine,' T. Parker Read Jr.'s 'I Am Guilty,' with Louise Gluski; Nazimova in 'Billions'; Bert Lytell in 'Extravagance'; Allen Dwan's 'The Broken Doll,' a pictureization of Wilbur Hall's Saturday Evening Post story, 'Johnny Cucaboo,' featuring Monte Blue and Mary Thurman, the big Canadian story, 'The Barbican'; 'The Heart of Maryland,' David Belasco's famous stage success, Garret Hughs in 'Lute of Youth,' 'The Foolish Matrons,' and many others of the biggest and best picture successes of the motion picture production organizations, including many big super-specials for which contracts have been signed. Some of us doctors sit up late nights trying to devise new diseases. The demand exceeds the supply. A eminent colleague some years ago invented splenichic neurasthenia and the disease made a great hit with a lot of folks. For in pique English it means the blues. Some folks are never quite happy unless they have some disease, and if it can't be anything else it may be the blues.

Frankly I don't know just what splenichic neurasthenia was intended to mean—I just hate to read about those downcastings diseases. I much prefer the study of uplifting conditions. But I apprehend the splenichic neurasthenia refers to blood stasis in the splenichic reservoir, and in human language this means a sort of stagnation of about one-fourth of all one's blood in the great network of blood vessels in and about the abdomen. Old healers who have been on this trail long enough may recall that I have dwelt on this subject in other talks and that I praised the practice of morning and evening somersaults as a remedy which at least in part counteracts the ill consequences of our abnormal posture.

Splenichic anhedonia is not exactly a new disease. I wouldn't invent a new disease for less than forty thousand dollars. It is just one of those haunting phrases I like to spring here to capture the interest of the casual, involuntary or skeptical reader.

Anhedonia is a highfalutin term for incapacity to enjoy life. It might be applied to every one who hasn't health plus. Splenichic anhedonia well describes the state of the poaching with sagging or posed abdominal organs. I say poor thing meaning gaunt, underweight, not poor in pocket; we doctors thank our lucky stars that most victims of splenichic anhedonia have a little read money.

Dr. Charles A. L. Reed, who has done some remarkable work in the surgical treatment of these visceral displacements—ptosis of the stomach, colon, liver, etc.—presents to the profession in a recent medical essay some impressive case histories in which such surgery has apparently brought about more or less complete recovery from such conditions as epilepsy (which by the way Dr. Reed calls "convulsive splenichic nosis"), since in his experience ptosis or sagging of an abdominal organ or organs was found in 81 successive cases of "chronic convulsive toxemia" or epilepsy, and several instances of melancholia.

Not every individual with a sagging or posed colon, stomach or liver or kidney suffers epilepsy or melancholia or even the blues, but probably every victim of such displacement may be truly described as a splenichic anhedonia. And any one writes and asks me how I person can tell whether he has ptosis I'll join the anhedonics. Wait and watch the hedonical column.

MANY ALIENS IN OHIO

SURPRISING as it may seem, the fact remains that one-twentieth of the total foreign-born population of the United States lives in Ohio. This information is authentic, coming from government statistics in Washington. Ohioans had always supposed that the eastern states, most any one of them, would show a greater percentage of the total of the alien population of this country, hence it is more than surprising when it is stated authoritatively that out of 13,703,987 alien born citizens in the entire country, 678,647 reside in Ohio, with German born citizens outnumbering all others. The number of alien born in the United States has increased 26 per cent since 1910.

The principal races represented in Ohio are as follows: Germany, 111,308; Hungary, 73,188; Poland, 67,578; Italy, 60,645; Austria, 17,974; Russia, 43,692; England, 43,134; Czech-Slovakia, 41,938; Jugo-Slavia, 30,385; Canada, 24,171; Greece, 13,537; Roumania, 13,067; Scotland, 12,147; Switzerland, 9,656; France, 8,056; Wales, 7,771; Sweden, 7,266; Finland, 6,403; Asia, 5,674; Lithuania, 4,193; Holland, 2,529; Bulgaria, 2,358; Belgium, 1,802; Norway, 1,487; Spain, 1,281; West Indies, 1,084.

This information from the seat of national government, placed in the hands of E. C. Vermillion, state Americanization director, in Columbus, was surprising even to that official. He is at the head of an organization that seeks to Americanize these various elements. The task is a big one, for the reason that, in many instances, it is difficult to induce foreign-born to forget the traditions of their native land and embrace the customs and spirit of their adopted land. It is an important work, the success of which is necessary for the future of America. Those who abide in this land should be of it beyond the mere making of their home. They should have full knowledge of our form of government, participating in it.

SHUN POISON IVY

AT this particular season of the year the poison ivy gets in its deadly work as it puts forth its greenish-white clusters of flowers and its system is filled with the sap that irritates the human cuticle after contact therewith, giving the owner of the skin something akin to an initiation as a member of the family of particular torment.

Poison ivy is dangerous to some persons at any time, but just now it is the enemy of everyone. Those who boast that they are immune from the effects of the ivy will likely get the surprise of their lives by dallying with it when it is in bloom. The poison ivy manages to punish about everyone who is careless or heedless.

It is easy to recognize the ivy. It has compound leaves made up of three leaflets untoothed and usually glossy. Tho it is ordinarily like a vine, occasionally it appears as a shrub. While there are myriads of cures for ivy poison, prevention is the best. It is wise to give the ivy wide berth.

BENEFICENT LAW

PUBLICATION in the press of the city of a statement that the state industrial commission has awarded to Mrs. Herbert McCreary the sum of $5,000, under the provisions of the workmen's compensation law, for the maintenance of herself and four little daughters, ranging in age from three months to six years, brought forth from all parts of the city and from deep down in the hearts of all classes of people who know the misfortune that fell to the lot of this brave little woman, expressions of approbation that such a beneficent law as that which came to the relief of the widowed mother is written on the statute books of the state.

Mrs. McCreary's husband, just in the prime of his life, vigorous and well endowed physically and mentally, fell victim to death while in the discharge of his duties in a mission that was of aid to his fellowmen. Coordinating with the school authorities of Lima, McCreary was engaged in organizing vocational training classes in the schools and in industrial plants. It was while waiting to go before a class of men at the Locomotive Works that an accident befell him, resulting in his death a few days later.

This case, wherein the state came to the financial assistance of the little mother within a few weeks after the home was bereft of husband and father, is only one of many wherein the workmen's compensation insurance law has demonstrated its timeliness and its value. Without the aid accorded by such a beneficent law, the future would indeed be dark. Money cannot take the place of a husband and father, but when misfortune comes it is of great aid to those who are left, practically helpless.

Herbert McCreary was recognized as one of the best educated of men, a splendid husband and father, whose outlook in life was bright and cheery. People of Ohio, whose hearts beat in sympathy with the unfortunate, are glad that there is a law that gives an opportunity to each and everyone, in a small way, to contribute to a fund used in such a noble cause.

KNOW YOUR OWN CITY

AFIRE occurred in Lima recently, in which a manufacturing concern suffered a heavy loss. A well known business man, when informed of the location of the fire, remarked that he did not know there was such a concern in the city. This, despite the fact that the business man is engaged in selling products similar to that manufactured in the plant partially destroyed by flames.

But the business man may not be altogether to blame for his lack of knowledge. Perhaps the product of the factory was never brought to his attention and he continued buying supplies of a similar character manufactured elsewhere, for the retail trade here.

In the light of such instances there is justification for a chamber of commerce, Rotary, Kiwanis and Lions clubs and other similar organizations, but even these are of no value to business men and manufacturers who hold themselves aloof from them.

"But the girls and women! Could a country, after all, be more blessed than these United States, with its millions of beautiful women?"

Of course the male is right. The American women are the most beautiful in the world, and some of them are works of art with which Europe cannot compete. But, dear major, what about the American men? What? Oh, very well!

JUST FOLKS—BY EDGAR A. GUEST

THREE CARES

One was waiting the loss of gold,
Dismal and grim was the tale he told;
How could tomorrow he look upon
With his life's work crumpled and his treasure gone?
Yet buildings might rise on his barren soil,
For God had not taken his strength to toil.

And today the people refused to buy;
Yet should failure come, there would still remain
Life and strength to fight again.
But a third there was and his heart was sore
And at night he solemnly paced the floor,
And all day long in his office place
Where he toiled, he saw but a sick child's face,
And he prayed to his God: "Take fame and wealth,
But save my baby and give her health."

WHAT THE STARS PREDICT

This is a neutral day. The stars are friendly to those who are at the head of government, endowing them with clear vision concerning their future acts, if the sages are to be believed. At this time, those who are ambitious, whether for money or power, should reach their goal without difficulty. It is wise to postpone the signing of contracts or leases until the stars are no longer in their present position. This is not a lucky day for love affairs. Persons whose birthday this is, should be extremely careful during the coming year, avoiding all business risks. Children born today are not likely to be well fitted for public life, and should be more successful in studious professions. (Copyright, 1921.)

SUFFERED SIX YEARS

Mrs. Stoll Tells Women How She Found Relief From Pain

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I suffered for six years with pain every month, had vomiting spells the first two days, and was unable to do my work. I read in your little book about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and took the medicine with satisfactory results. I am a midwife and recommend the Vegetable Compound to my friends and my daughters take it. You may publish these facts as a testimonial."—Mrs. LOUISE STOLL, 609 W. York St., Phila., Pa.

It is not natural for women to suffer as did Mrs. Stoll, and in nine cases out of ten it is caused by some displacement or derangement of the system which Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound overcomes, because it acts as a natural restorative.

Every woman who is subject to cramps, headaches, nervous spells, backache or those dreadful bearing-down pains should profit by Mrs. Stoll's experience and give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial, and if there is any complication write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., about her health.

CURRENT PLAYS RECEIVE KINDLY CRITICISM

Mack Sennett Spares Nothing to Make His Latest Comedy a Splendid Success

Elaine Hammerstein as Poor
Dear Margaret Can't Help
But Please Optimize

MACK SENNETT has spared neither time nor money in making "Home Talent" his latest live reel comedy. He has been most generous with his comedians, giving each and every one of them plenty of footage. If you don't feel inclined to laugh at Ben Turpin, why there's Charlie Murray, or perhaps you'll take Phyllis or Farley. They're all there, every one of them, and you will have to be in an awful humor if their antics do not amuse you highly.

"Home Talent" has a plot that concerns a hotel proprietor (Charlie Murray), who has heaps of trouble with some of his coarsers, who happens, are stranded vaudeville performers. Their lead-bill grows lengthy and the proprietor demands action. So they plan a wonderful theatrical venture, in which they star the proprietor's daughter, little Phyllis.

The show is a huge success—almost. There are beautiful Roman scenes where girls are sold in the slave marts, and it is in the timing of these scenes that the Sennett thing beauty comes in for their share of glory. Glorious, symmetrical girls, every one of them.

The Sennett players are all in good form, but Ben Turpin is the star, without a doubt. His work is just as sincere and at the same time comic as always. I think "Home Talent" is better than "A Small Town" which you surely remember, although the former is shorter by two reels. And the optime of which I was one gave much evidence of having a mighty pleasant time.

You can see "Home Talent" at the Sigma today and until Tuesday.

"Poor Dear Margaret Kirby"

YOU'RE going to feel awfully sorry for this poor, dear, Margaret Kirby. She's such a darling thru all the trouble and trials which the author, Kathlyn Harris, wished upon her. From society belle to a boarding house keeper, she goes without a murmur, while you sit back in admiration for the beauty and poise she maintains thru it all.

Miss Elaine Hammerstein is one of the very nicest and most capable actresses on the stage today and as Margaret Kirby she is adorable. You see, Mrs. Kirby and Mr. Kirby had been cutting apart for some time. He didn't give a hang for society and she just couldn't get interested in his brokerage business, which kept him away from home so much. The husband is ruined. The ex-falls and severs the Kirby fortune from the Kirby's wheatear Mr. Kirby attempts suicide.

He is saved from a horrible death, of course, but the doctor prescribes absolute rest, good food, quiet, etc., which doctors usually prescribe for people who haven't the price of a ham sandwich. Which puts it up to poor, dear, Margaret Kirby! Punch is injected into the picture by a blonde lady who loves Mr. Kirby. By a diabolical telegram she almost starts a rumpus, but she is foiled in time, thank heavens, and the finale is most, most pleasing. The cast is excellent. William Davidson, as the leading man, is quite understandable. The photography is fine. Reckon you'll like the picture lots. I did.

"Paying the Piper"

WHATEVER ELSE a Fitzmaurice production may be and is supposed to be, it is sure to be beautifully staged. His presentations are always of the whipped, frosted, marshmallowed and marshmallowed kind. It isn't so much the play itself as the way it's put on, that counts. Mr. Fitzmaurice, you'll agree, has an eye for effect.

"Paying the Piper" merely teaches that those who dance must pay, and pay, and pay. The production under discussion calls you to witness the sad adventures of a number of people—most of them too rich for their own good—who are brought to a thundering realization that life must be lived, not frittered.

The important people in the cast are Dorothy Dickson, Rod La Roque and George Fawcett. The rest are more or less puppets. And if by any chance you've given the subject any consideration, "Paying the Piper" provides you with something to think about. If you have it, won't hurt you a bit to ponder a little bit more.

As it stands "Paying the Piper" is decidedly worth seeing, if for no other than its wealth of decorative display.

MISS WAGNER'S UP-TO-DATE VAUDEVILLE AND MOVIE GOSSIP

COLLEEN MOORE, MOVIE STAR, ANALYZES THE PUBLIC

Colleen Moore, pretty, chic and colorful, has been analyzing her friends, the public, lately.

Miss Moore, who is appearing in Marshall Neilan productions, is at present in New York in the leading feminine role of "The Lotus Eaters," starring John Barrymore. While there she says she has discovered: "The G. O. P. (meaning Good Old Public and not Grand Old Party) likes beauty on the screen. It may be very appreciative of good acting, but that there must be one or two beautiful girls in the picture to really please the fans.

"The G. O. P. likes the close-up and that it sighs deep, adoring, heart-felt sighs at the heroine or hero appears in a close-up with a good strong back light for a halo. While it may criticize too many close-ups, a picture without one or two is as much of a failure as a Sunday breakfast without coffee.

"The story—oh, my goodness, here the dear public doesn't seem to know what it wants at all. It likes this and doesn't like that, and is bored to tears with the other; but one thing it must have, and that is a love story.

"The public must be in love all the time," for it just pines for sentiment and romance. It seems to be always wanting more and more of the love theme and a play without it simply languishes and dies."

DID YOU KNOW THAT
William and Neal Hart are no relation whatever? It is rather a coincidence that these two players of the same name should both win fame in the movies thru their portrayal of western and cowboy parts and still more unusual is the fact that both of them were born in New York state. Bill was born in Newburg, N. Y., and Neal in Richmond.

INTENSE INTEREST BEING SHOWN HERE SINCE DRECO MAN RETURNED

Local citizens tell how the famous remedy Dreco, has overcome their troubles. Good results in cases of gastritis, constipation, rheumatism, sluggish liver and weak kidneys.

"I firmly believe that Dreco is the most popular medicine in the U. S. today and I say this after coming in close contact with those who have taken it and hear their stories of relief from pain and suffering," declared the Dreco expert who is making a short stay at Hunter's Drug Store.
Read what this lady says of Dreco:
"I think everybody should know of this grand medicine," said Mrs. S. D. Campbell, of 206 N. Elizabeth-st. in this city. "For a long time," she continued, "my stomach has been giving lots of trouble and nothing I ate agreed with me and I suffered agony with indigestion and gastritis. I have been under treatment almost constantly and have spent lots of money for medicine but none did any good. My kidneys became deranged and gave terrible backaches from which I could get no relief. I felt like I couldn't drag myself out of bed in the morning and when I sat down couldn't make up my mind to get-up again; had lost all my energy and took no interest in anything."
"One day while reading about Dreco, I determined to try it, and after the first few doses I realized I had reached the turning point, for I began to feel better and the more I took the better I felt. My kidneys are alright again, bowels move regularly, gastritis is gone and I have no more stomach pains. It did me so much good that I started my seven year old son Charles taking it, and it has brought him out wonderfully; why he looks better than he ever looked in his life."
Mr. Day, the well known Dreco expert, has headquarters at Hunter's Drug Store, 49 Public Square, to meet the local public and explain the merits of this remedy. See him to-day.—Adv.

"She was gone for a month. Then, unexpectedly, when we had given up hope, she came in again. In a few days she left again, saying the house was too dull. I have not heard from her since."

Love-Lorn Youth Thinks Parents Shouldn't Object

By SUSIE SMART

Is Advised to Wait a Few Years, to Determine If He Knows His Own Mind

Young Miss Does Proper Thing in Rebuffing "Fresh" Young Man on the Street

Dear Miss Smart:

All young man of 18 and am engaged to a girl of the same age. I love her deeply but my parents seem to object to my going with her. I cannot see why it object. In fact, I do not think it is of their affair, do you?

IN LOVE

Not knowing the young girl I cannot say whether your parents justified in objecting to your engagement. However, it is a parent's privilege and duty to properly advise a daughter or son who seems to be acting unwisely.

Perhaps it is not the girl to whom your parents object but, probably their disapproval is based on the fact that you are too young to be thinking of an engagement.

Give serious consideration to their wishes, as it is only a reasonable and natural objection on their part.

You are very young yet—much too young to decide whom you should marry.

I am very certain that your parents will not want you to give up your friendship entirely. Do not give so much time to the friendship for the present and wait several years before you take any definite steps in the matter.

Dear Miss Smart:

I want to ask you if I did the proper thing in a little affair which occurred not so long ago. A young man came up to me on the street, spoke to me and said he had been wanting to meet me for some time. I did not know what to say. It startled me so much. I told him he was very rude and asked him to leave me alone. It made him a little peeved and he walked away.

Indeed you did the proper thing. This young man should have waited until he could have found a proper way to be introduced. Always refuse to recognize a stranger who accosts you.

Would you please be so kind as to tell me when wedding gifts should be acknowledged—before or after the wedding?

BRIDE-TO-BE

Like all other gifts, wedding gifts should be acknowledged as promptly as possible. If some are received so late that they cannot be acknowledged before the wedding and it is necessary for the bride to postpone the note of thanks and appreciation.

at in the lot really had anything to do with the matter.

To be sure, none of the women exerted themselves to make things pleasant for her; they did find, however, that she was a convenient person to know. Especially on Monday's days out. Margery never minded how many persons dropped in to see her on Thursday suppers. Nor how many unruly kiddies flocked to her back yard. She even let visiting mothers-in-law be wished on their way.

A sparkling June melted into a sultry July. Bertha, who was always at her worst in hot weather, began to fret. Margery's irrefragable vigor was an insult, the place that intriguing young person set had become a galling spur. Yet there was never a word from Margery to suggest that Bertha must do anything that Bertha didn't want to do. Things might have gone along this way for the rest of the summer if Charles hadn't stupidly taken to quoting Margery and boasting about Margery very much, as though she were a precious kiddle and he were her fond father.

That was the straw that broke the camel back of Bertha's pride. The quarrelled so bitterly one humid night over a seeming trifle that Charles lost his new-found serenity of spirit and said things so harsh that Bertha dissolved in hysterics.

"Bit run down," Doctor Haswell vouchsafed in answer to Charles' conventional question "when the doctor came down to the porch after giving Bertha a mild opiate. "Deuced hot even for this time of year. Do her good to get a change of air. Why don't you two run up in the mountains to the Rawsons' cottage for a couple of weeks? I know they've asked you and it would be just what Bertha needs."

Sullen, still annoyed by his irritating evening, Charles pleaded business. But under the doctor's urging he agreed to go for a week-end and leave Bertha with the Rawsons for August.

Margery was all sympathy; she dropped in on the morning they were leaving to hear Bertha's first grumbling about packing. She offered to help, indeed she offered to do all the packing for the semi-invalid. She contemplated the smoldering rage in Bertha's blue eyes and put forth hands on the older woman's shoulders.

"Look here," she burst out in her impetuous way. "I wish you wouldn't go away feeling this way about me! I told you long ago that I'm not the kind of a person you keep like a boy. He whistled the call he had taught her years before. "Lo, Cinderella!" he called softly under her windows. "Come on down. There's a prince hanging around; an old prince who feels like a party!"

She came to him unwillingly. She had been lounging in a hammock under the apple trees. She had not moved until he spied her. It was moonlight. She came across the dew wet grass, barefooted, in her Chinese boy's dress. Her loveliness took his breath away.

"You darling!" he whispered. "You go!" she retorted. (To be continued.)

Now, as she sat looking out at Wellsburg, she was thinking of the busy evening hour at home, her brothers and sisters gossiping about the day's events, and planning for the evening's pleasures, whatever they might be, and discussing the topics of the day in a bright and interesting manner. She thought of the night school, which she had religiously attended twice a week and more, to help herself along, of the dear little French teacher she had had the last few months that she had attended the French class, just before her marriage, Mademoiselle Aubert, who had taken a fancy to Cherry, and often talked to her at length of her home in France, and helped her with her lessons after class.

Truly life in Wellsburg was going to be entirely different, not a doubt about that. She thought of mother Randall, of Jane, of Jack and of the people she had met that afternoon. Then, with a thrill of her Ned. He was putting the finishing touches to his dressing now. She could follow him even with her eyes shut. How she loved him! "Ned, Neddy, darling," she called suddenly. "I'm going to love if here. Come kiss your own Cherry." (To be continued.)

Cherry had been born and raised in Chicago. She had been the eldest of five children, whose father had died when they were still young, leaving the rearing of his little brood to his wife.

Mrs. Lawrence had come from the east and at her husband's death she had had to take up the ends and go out into the world to make a living for them all. This she had done successfully, and she had raised her children as carefully as many a

A WIFE IN THE MAKING

By PHYLIS PHILLIPS

While her husband was getting ready for the evening meal, Cherry sat silently before the window that overlooked the friendly hickory tree, gazing off into space and apparently lost in deep thoughts of her own.

She was infinitely soothed by the peace and beauty of the scene before her. The scent of new-mown fields came gratefully to her nostrils, and the even-tide hush trembled like and invisible cloak over the drowsy glory of the flowers below.

Somewhere in the distance she could hear Jack whistling gaily to himself, and the sound of Mrs. Randall's voice giving Aunt Phoebe some last instructions concerning the supper. There was not a jarring note in the whole scheme of existence.

Cherry half closed her eyes and dreamed. She was in the throes of some sort of reaction, yet just what and why she could not have explained to herself.

Cherry had been born and raised in Chicago. She had been the eldest of five children, whose father had died when they were still young, leaving the rearing of his little brood to his wife.

Mrs. Lawrence had come from the east and at her husband's death she had had to take up the ends and go out into the world to make a living for them all. This she had done successfully, and she had raised her children as carefully as many a mother with far more time and money to devote to them.

There were three girls and two boys, and together they had laughed and quarreled thruout their childhood, as most other children in large families do. At sixteen, Cherry had of her own accord decided to help her mother, who was getting worn and weary thru her constant struggle for existence.

Accordingly, Cherry had joined a dressmaking establishment in Chicago, and from a mere apprentice there she worked herself up to the position of head designer in a comparatively short space of time.

Her life at the shop had been a happy one, for she was very popular with all the people there, and her "creations" were the delight of the wealthy customers who patronized the place.

At the time she married Edward Cherry was drawing a large salary. Her mother had retired from business, and the other children, now full-grown, were contributing to the household expenses. As may be judged, then, Cherry's life had been an active one, from sixteen years on. She had always made many friends and was considered one of the prettiest girls for blocks around, in that particular part of Chicago where she lived.

Now, as she sat looking out at Wellsburg, she was thinking of the busy evening hour at home, her brothers and sisters gossiping about the day's events, and planning for the evening's pleasures, whatever they might be, and discussing the topics of the day in a bright and interesting manner. She thought of the night school, which she had religiously attended twice a week and more, to help herself along, of the dear little French teacher she had had the last few months that she had attended the French class, just before her marriage, Mademoiselle Aubert, who had taken a fancy to Cherry, and often talked to her at length of her home in France, and helped her with her lessons after class.

MUTT AND JEFF—THEIR BANK ROLL MUST LOOK RATHER SICK THESE DAYS—

By BUD FIS

SHORT SHAVINGS

The teacher asked the class to write down eleven Antarctic animals. Jimmy Jones quickly wrote down his answer and took up his slate to the teacher's desk. This was what she read: "Six seals, four polar bears and one walrus."

It all happened in a southern courtroom.

"Young man," said the magistrate severely, "the assault you have committed on your poor wife was most brutal. Do you know of any reason why I should not send you to prison?"

"If you do, your honor," replied the prisoner at the bar, hopefully, "it will break up our honeymoon."

In Chicago they are telling of a widower who was married recently for the third time, and whose bride had been married once before herself.

The groom-elect wrote across the bottom of one of the wedding invitations sent to a particular friend: "Be sure to come; this is no amateur performance."

"And what might your work have been during the late war?" asked an old lady visiting the Atlantic fleet.

"Ma'am," replied the gob wearily, "I worked on a submarine and every time they wanted to dive I'd run forward and tip 'er up."

A lady writing in answer to a housewife's advertisement received this missive: "Madame—You have a good name and address, but you write on a measly half-sheet of paper which shows me you are no lady, and as such, and considering the paper you write on, the place wouldn't suit me, being accustomed to things being different."

OHIO

First in Great Men
First in Baseball
First in Football
First in Yucatan

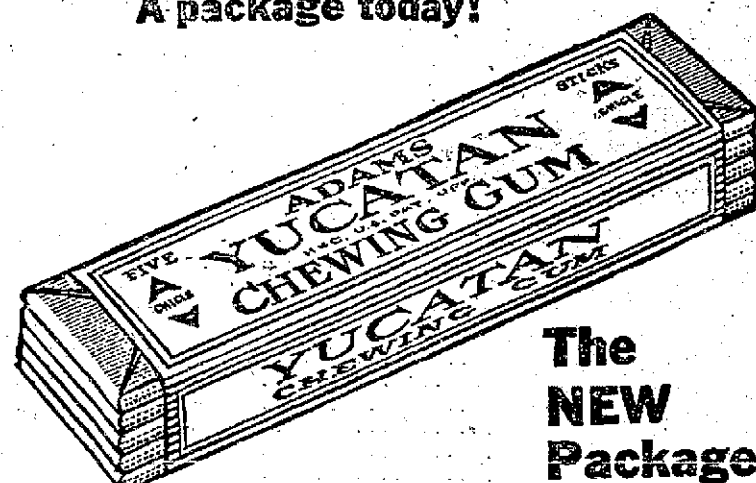

Ohio is being talked about everywhere—in the conservative East and in the progressive West.

Ohio's commercial growth, Ohio's great men, Ohio's World's Champion baseball, Ohio's football, arouse universal admiration.

Ohio's favorite gum is Adams Yucatan, originated in Ohio 35 years ago.

Dressed in a neater, more up-to-date package, Adams Yucatan keeps pace with Ohio.

All Ohio is for it.

The NEW Package

Says His Prescription Has Powerful Influence Over Rheumatism

Mr. James H. Allen suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery thru the newspapers. Two Hunter's Drug Stores, Enterprise Drug Store, Thompson's Drug Store, Interurban Drug Store, Public Drug Store have been appointed agents for Allen's in this vicinity with the understanding that they will freely return the purchase money on the first two bottles to all who state they received no benefit.
